Partners who have already completed FZTH

"Taking part in the FZTH program was a real accelerator for our team. The most valuable part was the practical structure for organizing the commercial discourse and, at the same time, grounding the technical approach with design criteria, best practices, and value-oriented conversation. On the commercial side, it helped us clarify our proposal and better approach discovery with customers through the suggested prospecting tools, connecting use cases with impact and ROI. On the technical side, we strengthened our architecture approach and how we justify decisions (security, scalability, and cost), achieving more aligned teams and stronger conversations with prospects."

BE Management Services – Argentina

"Participating in the FZTH program was a highly valuable experience. Through a combination of practical and conceptual content, we managed to strengthen our understanding of using cloud services in real projects and their impact on the digital transformation of organizations. Without a doubt, an initiative that delivers applicable knowledge and strengthens technical capabilities within the company."

Eikon - Ecuador

"Every track adds up. In the end, the team ends up much better prepared to talk with SMB customers."
